IELTS Speaking Part 1

Practice Class 01

Daily Routine

Q1: What time do you usually wake up?

A: I usually wake up around 6:30 in the morning. I like starting my day early because it gives me a sense of control. It's nice to enjoy a quiet cup of coffee before the day turns noisy.

Q2: What do you do after you get up?

A: I take a few minutes to stretch, then I make coffee and scroll through the news or messages. It's my small ritual to feel connected and ready to face the day.

Q3: Do you like your daily routine?

A: Mostly, yes. It keeps me productive and helps me manage my time. But honestly, it can get monotonous, especially when every day starts to feel like a copy of the last one.

Q4: How would you change your routine if you could?

A: I'd add a morning walk or some reading time before bed. It would be nice to slow down a bit instead of running on autopilot all the time.

Music

Q1: What kind of music do you listen to?

A: I'm into indie and alternative rock, mostly. I like songs that have a story or some real emotion behind them. Music feels more meaningful when the lyrics hit close to home.

Q2: How often do you listen to music?

A: Every single day, to be honest. Whether I'm commuting or studying, there's always something playing in the background. It just keeps me focused and in a good mood.

Q3: Have your music tastes changed over time?

A: Definitely. I used to listen to whatever was trending, but now I go for artists with depth. It's funny how growing up changes your playlist.

Q4: Do you prefer listening to music alone or with others?

A: Alone, usually. When I'm by myself, I can really get lost in the music without worrying about anyone judging my weird taste.

Sports

Q1: Do you play any sports?

A: I play badminton occasionally. It's fast-paced but not too exhausting, and it's a fun way to unwind after a long week.

Q2: What sports are popular in your country?

A: Football and cricket are huge here. People take them so seriously that matches feel more like national events than just games.

Q3: Do you prefer watching sports or playing them?

A: I'd rather play. Watching is fine, but playing gives me that burst of adrenaline and satisfaction that sitting on a couch can't.

Q4: Did you like sports when you were a child?

A: Oh yes, I loved being outdoors. We'd play until it got dark, and no one cared about winning—we just wanted to keep the game going.

Hobbies & Interests

Q1: What do you usually do in your free time?

A: I read or write short stories online. It's something that helps me unwind and express myself. Sometimes it even feels therapeutic.

Q2: Do you prefer to spend your free time alone or with friends?

A: It depends. When I'm tired, I prefer staying in with a book. But when I'm in a social mood, meeting up with friends for coffee feels refreshing.

Q3: How did you develop your hobbies?

A: During the lockdown, I had too much time at home and started exploring things I'd ignored before. Writing stuck with me, and now it's a regular part of my life.

Q4: Would you like to have more free time for your hobbies?

A: Absolutely. Between work and daily chores, free time feels like a luxury. I'd love to have more hours just to create or relax without guilt.

Technology / Internet / Media

Q1: How often do you use the internet?

A: Pretty much all day. Whether it's for studying, working, or just watching something mindless, the internet is always there. It's both a blessing and a distraction.

Q2: Do you think people rely too much on technology?

A: Definitely. People panic more when their phone battery dies than when they forget their keys. It's convenient, but we're far too attached to screens.

Q3: What's your favourite app or website?

A: Probably YouTube. You can find everything there, like music, tutorials, random facts. It's a rabbit hole, but a useful one.

Q4: How has technology changed your life?

A: It's made things faster and easier. I can work remotely, talk to friends abroad, and learn almost anything. Still, I try to disconnect now and then before my brain turns into Wi-Fi.

Food & Eating Habits

Q1: Do you prefer eating at home or in restaurants?

A: At home, for sure. It's cleaner, healthier, and cheaper. Plus, I actually enjoy cooking, it's like therapy after a stressful day.

Q2: What's your favourite meal of the day?

A: Dinner, hands down. It's when I can finally slow down, sit with family, and eat something proper instead of rushing through lunch.

Q3: Have your eating habits changed in recent years?

A: Yes, a lot. I used to eat junk without thinking, but now I'm more conscious about what I put on my plate. Age, I guess, makes you pay attention.

Q4: Do you like to cook?

A: I do. It's satisfying to make something from scratch and see others enjoy it. Plus, you can experiment without anyone judging your "creative" recipes.

Family & Friends

Q1: Do you spend much time with your family?

A: Not as much as before, since everyone's busy. But we make sure to have dinner together at least once a week, which keeps us connected.

Q2: Are you close to your friends?

A: Yes, with a few of them. I'd rather have a small circle I can really trust than dozens of acquaintances who barely know me.

Q3: What do you usually do when you meet your friends?

A: We grab coffee, talk about life, or just walk around. Sometimes we don't even need a plan—it's more about the company.

Q4: Who are you closer to, your family or friends?

A: That's a tough one. My family knows me inside out, but my friends understand the version of me that's grown over the years.

Environment / Nature

Q1: Do you care about environmental issues?

A: Absolutely. It's hard not to, given how things are going. I try to make small changes like using less plastic and wasting less food.

Q2: Do you recycle things?

A: I do, though not perfectly. Sometimes it's hard when there's no proper system around, but I try my best to sort things at home.

Q3: Is there a park or garden near your home?

A: Yes, and I go there for walks when I need to clear my head. Just being around trees makes me feel calmer.

Q4: Do you prefer living in the city or countryside?

A: Countryside, no question. Life there feels slower and more genuine. The air's clean, and you can actually hear yourself think.

Culture & Traditions

Q1: What's your favourite festival in your country?

A: I love New Year celebrations. Everyone's hopeful, the atmosphere feels alive, and it's one of those rare moments when people genuinely wish each other well.

Q2: Do you think traditions are important?

A: Yes, they're what connect us to our past. Even though some traditions are outdated, they still give a sense of identity and belonging.

Q3: Have you ever taken part in a traditional event?

A: Many times. I've joined family ceremonies and community festivals. It's a great way to feel part of something bigger than yourself.

Q4: How do young people in your country view traditions?

A: Most respect them, but they also want flexibility. People my age like keeping traditions alive, just without the rigid rules.

Transportation / Travel & Tourism

Q1: How do you usually travel to work or school?

A: I usually take the bus. It's not always comfortable, but it saves money and I get some time to listen to podcasts or music.

Q2: What's your favourite mode of transport?

A: Trains. There's something peaceful about watching the scenery roll by while you sit back and do nothing productive.

Q3: Do you like travelling to new places?

A: I love it. Exploring new cities or countries opens your eyes to different ways of living. It's like a reset button for the mind.

Q4: Have you ever had any problems while travelling?

A: Oh yes, once I lost my luggage on a trip. At first, I panicked, but then I realized it's part of the adventure, you learn to adapt fast.
