Introduction/What is it?

I have some attractive items such as laptop, mobile phone, oven, watch, furniture and so on. Among them, my laptop which I particularly find stunning is one of the most precious items in my daily life or at least as good as others.

Who gave it to you?

Now the question is how I got this laptop. To be honest, when I got chance in my dream university named DU, my mother surprisingly gave this outstanding product as a gift. To be precise, the date was 22nd September, 2021. I didn't know about the laptop price initially, but when I brought this laptop to my university, one of my friends informed me that the laptop price was 73,000 tk.

Why do you think it is useful?

My day begins with this laptop. I cannot think of a single day without it. First of all, I do complete my university homework or assignment through this laptop. Sometimes, we arrange a zoom meeting with my group members to complete our assignment. Secondly, I utilize laptop not only for educational purposes but also for entertainment. Furthermore, I do check my email for the sake of getting a part time job for which I have applied for.

Another thing, I am talking about, the laptop is a really convenient and movable gadget that's why I can bring it to my class every day. For instance, few days ago I was watching a movie named 3 idiots while I was taking rest on my bed.

Imaginary something if you have time:

As far as I could vividly remember, once upon a time I had just returned from the class and I had a really crucial task at that moment but suddenly I found my laptop disturbed then I called my friend who was a software engineer to discuss about this problem, he laughed at my problem and replied that I am not a quack, I am a software engineer so you should go to a repairing center.
